PENSIONS FOR DEFEATED CONGRESSMEN?

If the latest and screwy pension scheme ever becomes effective no President or party chieftain need hereafter extend himself in an effort to purge the House and Senate of undesirables. He can simply retire them on a pension and kick them off the reservation.

Speaker Bankhead of the House, Democrat, and Senator Bridges, Republican, are reported to be leading a group who are studying the "feasibility" of paying pensions to retired or defeated members of both branches. It has been pointed out that ex-congressmen and ex-senators either become wards of the government and must be given fat jobs, or they become a menace to Washington's partisan and political society by turning lobbyists.

This scribe is just a hillbilly from White County, and it is not necessary for him to have much sense, if any. But even the chaplain to a flock of Arkansas razor-backs can have his bright moments. I figure that infectious economic hermia has reached a state of morbidity among some of the boys on Capitol Hill, and they become chilly and shiver at the prospect of a terrible life on and after a certain cold day in November, 1940. So why not give a poor defeated candidate a nice pension?

The chances for this congressional pension movement appear to be very good. Democrats ought to make the country safe for Democrats after 1940, and Republicans know they cannot be discriminated against. After all, a pension might come in real handy later on, so they will perhaps look on it as bread cast upon the water to be turned to them not years hence. With this in mind statesmen can afford to be decent about it and provide liberally for their haggard and harassed partisan rivals.

MAKE IT RETROACTIVE

Pensions for defeated congressmen would, without doubt, win overwhelming favor with rank-and-file Republican, and among those who before 1932 were self-indexed as perspicacious statesmen — provided the law can be made retroactive and cover all unfortunate political casualties of the past eight years.

The sponsors of this bill to make ex-congressmen life-beneficiaries of the government's love and affection in dollars and cents are overlooking what may come in on the tide, or the aftermath, so to speak. What about members of the state legislatures who fall from evil times, ex-governors—yes, even ex-constables? What's sauce for one gander is pretty good sauce for another gander. Maybe at last, but assuredly not least, these boys will want their share of political heart balm. It would be just another way of saying to the voters: "You taxpayers re-elect me or you'll pay me alimony for the rest of my life!"

If Uncle Sam will put me on his pension list I promise, so help me, to go back to the Ozarks and never run for Congress—not even for constable.

BASEBALLERS BOW TO VISITORS IN FIRST GAME

Placerville's independent baseball club lost the opening game of the season, bowing to the Acme Transfer nine of Sacramento to the tune of 19 to 4.

Next Sunday, weather permitting, the Folsom club will come here for a game.

The local nine had scheduled the Sunday game in the nature of a practice, which is exactly what it was, for the El Dorado County lads had had few opportunities to practice before the game.

The short score: R H E
Acme Transfer 19 22 1
Placerville 4 6 4
Batteries, Kienle, G. Valine and J. Valine; Jackson, Sears and Brown.

Drunk Driving Draws $200 Fine

Vernon E. Newman, arrested over the weekend by city officers on a charge of driving while drunk, pleaded guilty Monday morning before Police Judge Eugene Creed and was fined $200, with the alternative of 100 days in jail.

COUNTY FAIR WORK STARTS

$25,000 Project To Be Carried Out Using WPA Labor

Equipment was moved in Monday morning on the new county fair site, lately acquired by the county from Loren D. Forn, looking to start this week on a $25,000 improvement project.

Details of preparing for the start of work will be concluded on Tuesday and, according to County Engineer Don M. Hoffman, a crew of 25 WPA workers will report for work Wednesday morning.

Twenty-thousand dollars of the project is a WPA allocation, the remaining twenty per cent being posted from the fair funds which come to the county from the state, so that the improvement is without any expenditure of county funds which will be reflected in the tax rate.

The immediate work to be done will consist of making an entrance to the grounds, preparing for water, light and power installations and for the installation of sanitary conveniences; grading of exhibition grounds and grading of a quarter-mile arena; making of roads and streets, landscaping, fence-building, and similar work.

It is also hoped that a start may be made on the erection of the first unit of the grandstand.

F. R. Ponders Relief Cost

Expected Request For $150,000,000 Delayed; Conference Later Today

WASHINGTON (UP)—The White House announced today that President Roosevelt had been delayed in preparing his message asking congress for additional relief funds and may not submit it before midweek.

The white house attributed the delay to pressure of other business. However, it was believed in some quarters that Mr. Roosevelt may not yet have finally determined the amount of relief funds which he will ask congress to provide for use of the Works Progress Administration until June 30.

Indications have pointed strongly to a request for $150,000,000 relief funds—the amount which congress previously declined to provide. However, strong opposition to so large an appropriation has been expressed by many congressional leaders.

Strengthening belief that Mr. Roosevelt desires to canvass the situation more thoroughly before setting a figure on relief needs was the fact that he planned to confer late today with a group of senators for a general discussion of relief, unemployment and the general economic situation. The group included Sens. James Mead, D. N. Y., H. H. Schwartz, D. Wyo., and Lister Hill, D. Ala., all staunch New Deal supporters.

Lions Fear Gov. Olson Too Busy For Visit

The proposed visit of Governor Culbert L. Olson to Placerville Den of Lions at their meeting on Tuesday probably will not materialize, heads of the club admitted today.

President H. E. Dillinger, through whom the invitation to meet with the club was extended to the Governor, reports that he feared at the time the invitation was issued that the Governor would be too busy with state problems, and the continued silence of those through whom the bid was extended indicates the probability that such is the case.

United States Chrome Mines Incorporate

Articles of Incorporation were filed Saturday at the courthouse by the United States Chrome Mines, Inc. The concern will have 775,000 shares of stock of which 25,000 will be preferred stock with a value of $10 per share, the balance having a value of $1 per share. Officers of the company are M. P. Taylor, V. R. Giraud and L. M. Rains, all of Reno, Nevada.

Chester Carsten was home from Sacramento Junior College for the weekend. Chet, who did mound duty for the Cougars last year, is getting in some practice with the Panthers and will no doubt land an outfield berth and probably do some regular hurling, too.

Placerville Baby Weighs 3 1-2 Pounds

Placerville Sanatorium has a three and one-half pound baby.

The child, a girl, was born on Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ogden, and doctors reported the little one, which is receiving the special care her condition requires, as "doing pretty well" Monday morning.

The infant is described by doctors as "a seven month baby."

Mr. Ogden is the fire chief on the Lumberyard district of Eldorado Forest.

MARGUERITE PARLOR HAS ARBOR DAY PROGRAM ON SATURDAY

Approximately thirty-five members of Marguerite Parlor No. 12, N. D. G. W., met Saturday afternoon at the home of their president, Mrs. Mary Jane Lyons, for a program observing Arbor Day.

An appropriate program had been arranged under the supervision of Mrs. Esther Dusan and included songs and recitations. Mrs. Emma McCumsey again contributed her recitation, "Pansies," to the program. In the course of the exercises all adjourned to the yard where a flowering peach tree was planted, dedicated by the president to her mother, Mrs. Josie Besse.

Upon the conclusion of the program, potluck refreshments were served under the supervision of a committee headed by Mrs. Gertrude Steffen.

Mrs. Eva Kinsey, Mr. and Mrs. Will Baughman and Tim Hulse were up from Sacramento Saturday night to attend the whist party at Smith Flat. Mrs. Kinsey is a sister of Joe Cola, and Mrs. Baughman is her daughter. The group attended a similar occasion at Smith Flat two weeks previous, and enjoyed the occasion so thoroughly that they returned Saturday night.

COUGARS START BASEBALL

Schedule Arranged; 45 Aspirants For Team Answer First Call

The baseball call has been answered by approximately forty-five likely looking young hustlers at the high school and Coach L. A. Brown has the schedule for the season arranged with the first game scheduled for this coming Thursday at 3 o'clock on the home lot against the Placer Junior College.

The call for try-outs went out last Thursday and although the storm of the past week kept the Cougars inside, they got down to business with a work-out at Marcus P. Bennett, Jr., Memorial Park Saturday morning.

Following the game with the junior collegians from Auburn on Thursday, here's the Cougar schedule for the season:

March 18, at Auburn high school at ten o'clock;
March 21, at Folsom; March 24, Folsom here; March 25, Auburn here;

March 31, at Sutter Creek, league game; April 1, at Auburn vs Placer Junior College at ten o'clock; April 11, Ione here, league game; April 14, Jackson here, league game; April 18, Sutter Creek here, league game; April 21, Ione there, league game; April 22, San Juan here; April 25, at Jackson, league game; April 28, Mother Lode League play-off.

Water Parley On March 24

Pilot Hill Grange Sponsors Meeting, Invites Visitors

Plans are being made for a community conference on the water situation on the north side, as viewed by users of the Georgetown ditch, to be held at Cool on March 24th.

We learned that the meeting is being arranged by the members of Pilot Hill Grange No. 1, who have invited State Master George Sehlmeier, of the Grange, to be a speaker.

Invitations also are being extended to members of the Farm Bureau, asking them to invite a representative speaker to be present, and also asking them to attend and join in the meeting.

Whether J. J. Deuel, chairman of the law and utilities department of the state Farm Bureau Federation, whose attention has been directed to the north side water situation, may be able to attend, was not known.

CONSERVATION TALK AT RESCUE MEETING BY ROY MARKS

The regular meeting of the Rescue Fam Center, held Friday night with Chairman Fred Wessels in charge, heard a talk by Roy Marks, of Missouri Flat, on Conservation.

Mr. Marks, who was called on informally, spoke concerning the fertilization project which is being carried out in his Missouri Flat ranch and invited the members of the center and their friends to call and inspect the work being done.

Chairman Wessels also called upon other visitors for short talks on a variety of subjects.

The program also included songs by Vinton Veerkamp, Jr., who played his own guitar accompaniment. At the close of the evening refreshments were served.

Farm Advisor Lilley Able To Be Out

Farm Advisor Ivan W. Lilley, one of eleven people injured in an automobile collision at the Five-Mile stone on February 26, was able to spend a few hours Monday at his desk.

Mr. Lilley reports that Mrs. Lilley, whose arm and collar bone were broken in the crash, is improving slowly and continues in some discomfort as a result of her injury.

The Farm Advisor, who hopes to spend a few hours each day this week at his office, has asked us to say that he and Mrs. Lilley appreciate very sincerely the many courtesies extended to them by their numerous friends.

SEAL SALE HITS NEW HIGH MARK

Tuberculosis Society Plans Tests April 17; Officers Are Re-Elected

The receipts from the sale of Christmas Seals in El Dorado County during the last pre-Christmas season amounting to $901.92, representing an increase of $21.82 over the year before.

This was the report of the secretary-treasurer at the annual meeting of the county Tuberculosis Association, held on Thursday evening, March 9, at the offices of School Superintendent K. W. McCoy. Dr. A. A. McKinnon, president, and all other officers of the association were re-elected.

The week of April 17th, according to Mrs. A. J. Blair, publicity chairman, was designated for making tuberculosis skin tests in the county. These will be followed by x-ray examination of positive reactors.

With the consent of the parents of the pupils, the association hopes to give the tests to all first grade pupils of the county and to the non-reactors in previous tests at the high school.

In addition to retaining the officers who have been in charge for the past two years, the association appointed Mrs. Swift Berry as General Field Seal sale chairman.

Miss Irene Carlson, of the state office in San Francisco, was present and outlined valuable points in tracing possible cases of tuberculosis, as gained from the intensive study of the past few years.

MISS BESSIE LANGLOIS ANSWERS CALL; RITES ON WEDNESDAY

The funeral services for Miss Bessie May Langlois, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Langlois, of Ringgold, will be held on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Dillinger mortuary chapel. Rev. G. F. Hoff, of Oakland, an old family friend, will officiate. Interment will be at Union Cemetery.

Miss Langlois passed away early Sunday at the family home following an illness which had made her an invalid for about six years. She was afflicted with arthritis and despite the continuing nature of her illness bore her condition cheerfully and with a spirit of fortitude which enlisted the admiration of the many friends she had won in her earlier life.

Deceased was a native of Iowa, born May 3, 1888, and came to this county with her parents about eighteen years ago.

Brother Of Placerville Man Is Summoned

Funeral services were held at Colusa on February 20 for Antone Martin, 84, a brother of Henry Martin, of Placerville. Mr. Martin had passed away the previous Saturday at Redding where, during his later life, he had made his home. Two sisters, in addition to the brother named, survive him.

Mrs. T. L. McCall, of Nampa, Idaho, a sister of V. E. Allen, of Placerville, died early Monday at Nampa, Idaho, hospital. She is survived by four children and her husband, in addition to her parents, two sisters and one other brother the latter group being resident at Salt Lake City.

The register of arrests at the Sheriff's office reveals that John W. Noe, 55, of El Dorado, who was arrested Thursday by Sheriff Smith, is held on a charge of adultery.

CONSERVATION POSTER CONTEST AWARDS TO BE MADE THIS WEEK

Leta Ross Wins First Among High School Pupils, George Besse Captures Honors In Group 2, Geraldine Squier In Group 3

The awards to winners in the Conservation Week Poster Contest conducted in the county schools under the auspices of the county Conservation Week Committee, will be presented to the pupils at their schools during the present week.

The winners were chosen by a committee of judges which met Saturday morning following closing of the contest on last Friday evening, and first place in the three divisions of the contest went to Leta Ross, of Placerville; George Besse, of Placerville and Geraldine Squier, of Coloma.

Leta Ross won the high school contest, designated as Group One, and will receive $3 cash.

George Besse, of Placerville Grammar School, won in Group Two, which included Camino, Smith Flat, Diamond Springs, El Dorado, Georgetown, Buckeye, Garden Valley, Folsom, Pines, Missouri Flat and Placerville grammar schools. He will receive $3 cash.

Geraldine Squier, of Coloma, won first place in Group Three, which included all other grammar schools of the county. She will receive $3 cash.

In addition to the first prizes, a number of other lesser awards were provided for and the committee of judges considered this especially fortunate because of the general excellence of all entries. The numerous lesser awards made it possible to give recognition to a number of very worthy posters which were entered by pupils who pressed the winners hard for first honors.

All of the judges were very much impressed by the excellence of the art work submitted and by the un- (Continued on page 3)

Sliding Mount Jams Traffic

Thousands Visit Gilroy To Watch As Hillside Shifts Into Valley

GILROY, (UP)—New pressure piled up behind the moving mountain of the "Dead Hills" today as thousands of tons of earth moved mysteriously and inexorably into the Pajaro Valley.

Ahead of the strange earth movement was the only power line carrying electrical energy into the Salinas Valley, "the nation's lettuce bowl," a vulnerable stretch of U. S. Highway 101 and a bridge across the Pajaro river.

Thomas Joyce, superintendent of the state highway maintenance division, said he believed there was little danger of the slide blocking the highway or damming the river. Others were not so optimistic.

Sightseers flocked to the scene from all parts of the valley. Their cars created the greatest traffic jam ever seen in this area. For six miles on either side of the slide automobiles moved at four miles an hour.

Pheneger Bound Over On Forgery Count

William Pheneger, returned from Redding last week by Sheriff Geo. M. Smith to face a charge of forgery, was bound over for trial Monday morning at a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace T. F. Lewis.

Pheneger has confessed, District Attorney Henry S. Lyon reports, that he forged the name of "B. C. Roberts" to a check for $17. Bail was set at $2,000.

The district attorney also reports that there were additional questionable checks issued but that these were "taken care of by some of his friends."

Winkelmans Entertain At Housewarming

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Winkelman were hosts to some of their friends on Saturday evening at a social occasion celebrating the recent completion of their new home. There were four tables of bridge and very lovely refreshments were served at the close of the evening. The guests were given opportunity to inspect the comforts and conveniences of the modern new residence.

"Love One, Love All," Net Star Loses

LONG BEACH, (UP)—Walter V. Thurman, 29, city tennis champion, was held here today on suspicion of bigamy.

Police Lieutenant Charles Gouthro said Thurman married Ruth Louder, 18, in Santa Ana on Oct. 21, and then assertedly married Agnes Thrush, 23, in San Francisco on Feb. 4.

Dan Callanan was sentenced to twenty days in jail following his guilty plea before Police Judge Eugene Creed Monday morning to a charge of being drunk and disorderly. The judge said he recognized Callahan as a second offender.

revised and amended prospectus that Roosevelt, Morgenthau & Hopkins have just gotten out for boosting the New Deal's desecrated stock. The newly-inserted captions in this White House sales manual offer special inducements to capital and industry, and hold out glowing but vague promises about taxes, government encouragement for business without interference, a balanced budget by reduced spending, and quick recovery—or a reasonable facsimile thereof.

Their noble lubrication sounds good until you read the few lines of fine print below where they tell us about how they are going to raise the public debt limit a few more notches—from 45 billions to 50 billions.

FAITH, HOPE AND CHARITY

Faith is the substance of things hoped for but not seen, while hope is the only thing that keeps us alive. ## THE Book Mark

By JANE VOILES

"Like the dog in the baggage car we have chewed up our tag and don't know where we're going as a nation," David Seabury the psychologist said the other evening. All the experts have a panacea to save the nation from perdition and Seabury offers his.

"We are always in a battle to preserve our identity. To maintain personal liberty the Pilgrims came to America and the Revolutionary war in essence was a war for the liberty of the individual."

Seabury claims like the new writers that we must know our origins as a nation. (And in parenthesis may we name two new books that will give you the American perspective? One is that remarkable novel "The Tree of Liberty" by Elizabeth Page and the other Marjorie Greenfield's latest book "The American Saga".)

Seabury has worked with more than 12,000 people in his clinic. He is a big man, no longer young. As he talks he moves about the platform and pours plenty of heat into his discussion. He has knowing eyes and a resonant voice. No audience goes to sleep while David Seabury talks. Because some of the celebrities who have come to the coast have been such dull speakers, it was suggested by no less a person than Brother Leo himself who is one of the top notchers on the California platform that we exhibit celebrities in a glass cage and let people look at them without having to listen to them. While Seabury would be worth going to see as he is all that a handsome man in his prime should be, incidentally he wears chin whiskers, weren't they called a goatee? he is very much worth hearing even if you don't agree with all that he had to say.

A psychologist sees the world in terms of conflict. There is conflict in the nation, in the state and in the home. Many homes Seabury claims, are dominated by Hitler and Hitleresses.

One of our difficulties is that our values in life have not kept pace with the mechanical advancement in the world. Where it took six months to reach California from New York in a covered wagon, now a trip can be made in 24 hours. Thirty years ago women used to shroud themselves carefully when in bathing, now they give their knees the freedom of the city. (Seabury must have been giving the new styles the once over.)

At one time Neuhosis which is the break down of the emotional life of the individual, was a rare occurrence. Now insanity is on the increase. Almost as many people enter college as enter insane asylums. At the rate we are going there will not be a sane person left in the U. S. in 200 years.

For this cheerful outlook the psychologist proposes as a remedy the working out of a principle of co-operation and mutual aid. The important consideration in this principle is that the health and growth of the personality is as essential as that of the body.

"Children are taught the height of Mt. Everest and the length of the Nile but they are not taught a knowledge of psychology so they may know how to live with another all through life."

We used to believe that the individual had to adjust himself to his environment but Mr. Seabury insists that it should be the other way around, that the environment must be adjusted to the individual. Polar bears will not live in the jungle and a cactus will not grow in an ice field.

Mr. Seabury is the author of "How to Worry Successfully," "What Makes Us Seem so Queer?" "Growing Into Life," "The Art of Selfishness" and "Will Your Own Future."

H. V. Kaltenborn, the radio commentator, has been lecturing in California. Whether or not Kaltenborn and Seabury could discuss politics and spit in sweet unison is a matter of conjecture.

To the question: which is more successful, a dictatorship or a democracy? Kaltenborn parries with the question—which is working better? To work better does not mean having the largest air force or being able to threaten other nations into submission, it means, is there more successful living for the average man and woman.

In Germany books and letters are censored and every action of the individual is checked. A million little Hitleres have absolute power to subject the people so that every aspect of life is controlled by the state. Kaltenborn sees the doom of dictatorships. He foresees that in the East, Japan may be winning the battles but China will win the war. But this doesn't mean that the U. S. can sit back in slippers and ease. We must strengthen our back bone, get rid of the spies and propagandists that are infesting our country and fortify Guam and show more militancy!

Within a few days it will be March—that's the month, you know, that comes in like a Mussolini demand and goes out like a Chamberlain answer.

Home Discipline Builds Character

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

WHY KILL the goose that laid the golden egg? Are we not doing so as we rob the child of necessary self-control?

If, in accordance with current philosophy of child rearing, we let the youngster at home do about as he pleases until he is old enough to be reasoned with, he will have cultivated so strong habits of doing as he pleases that he will rarely choose to respond to reason.

Suppose you let him mar the furniture as he likes, romp and rough-house indoors, and roam without restraint about the neighborhood. When this child goes to other homes where there are children, he won't be welcome long.

Imitate Him

Other youngsters coming to your home, imitating him, will become so boisterous that you eventually will drive them away. Then your child's freedom will enslave him into solitude. The neighbors will complain about the vandalism of your young barbarian. The merchants will dread to have him in their stores, and eventually the police will spot him as a social nuisance. Who will be his friends?

When he goes to school, he will probably annoy his teacher in the classroom and halls and his playmates out-of-doors. If he goes to Sunday school, he may prove to be a little hellion. Suppose his school teacher or Sunday school teacher should put on a party at her home for his group. Let her tell of her experience. Suppose most of the boys in your neighborhood are of his ilk!

Halts Organization

Some gracious person on your street tries to organize a Den of Cobs and invites a group of boys in the block, from nine to 11 years of age. Suppose they almost wreck her house by running all over it. She probably gives up the undertaking in despair. Many such opportunities for wholesome social fun for children have been abandoned for such reasons.

Have you ever been a leader of Boy Scouts or the like? Many more fine young men and women would be glad to volunteer their services in all sorts of character-building organizations for children if more of these children had better character (self-control) to begin with. Churches and Sunday schools would put on ever so many more activities for children and youths if these youngsters weren't so ill-disciplined.

Fashions, Fads, Foibles

Ruffles, pleats, flares and swing skirts add motion and rhythm to the static gowns of severer line. Draperies and shirrings soften the tailored cut; while lace, gathered at the neck and cuff, takes the place of the plain collar and wristband. Flowers and feathers also contribute their part to make milady feminine.

With hair done high and many furbelows, we are reverting to the "fluffy-ruffles" type. Will the men be any more likely to propose than er or director, who trained a former contestant or group from entering an entirely new group or a new contestant nor from acting as director or accompanist for the new group or contest thus entered.

Entries are limited to residents of El Dorado County only.

The time limit for each stunt or performance is five minutes.

All contestants or entrants must register not later than March 14, 1939.

Entrants are requested to register as early as possible at the office of L. J. Anderson, 433 Main Street, Phone 260, Placerville, Calif. when we wore the boyish bob and man-tailored suits?

Because they have been so consistently popular for recent years, it is no longer fashion news that black-and-white are in high favor. Blue in every shade will remain a favorite while the newest color tone is canary yellow. We are accustomed to the blue hat, blue gloves and blue shoes to go with the blue dress, but Dame Fashion is taking a further step toward harmony and now offering us blue stockings to match the rest.

Mrs. Solomon Says:

In the ideal home, things are subordinated to ideals. Simplicity of material surroundings will free the family for wealth while spiritual happiness, for leisure, for hobbies, and for personal and social enjoyments.

Fish

Most housewives do not realize the economy and nutrition of fish as a food; the fact that salmon, sardines and herring are rich in vitamins; or that salt-water fish contain iodine which is needed in regions where goiter is common. Europeans eat much fish and know how to cook it attractively. We might take some lessons from them.

Few of us know the varieties of fish and the uses of each. For boiling, steaming or making curry or chowder, a dry-meated or lean fish is best, as: black bass, carp, yellow perch, pike, pickerel, sturgeon, red snapper, grouper, yellow tail and amberjack.

Of medium dryness or oiliness are herring, lake trout, pompano, whitefish, mackerel, and butterfish. Fish are available in all parts of the country, fresh, frozen or canned. Frozen fish should be used as soon as thawed, as it spoils more quickly than fresh fish. When buying fish select that which has bright red eyes, a fresh firm and elastic, so that the impression of pressed fingers on its does not remain, the circo, striped bass, weakfish, brook trout, porgy and mullet. Oily fish are best for baking, as salmon, shad, body rather stiff and muscles white.

One of the most attractive ways to prepare fish is as French chowder or Italian "cioppino," cut up and cooked with tomatoes, onions, spices and other seasonings or vegetables. In Brittany they simmer it with equal parts of milk and water. In Norway they pound or grind it to a paste, combine it with eggs, milk, salt and a dash of nutmeg; steam it in a mold and serve it with a melted butter or cream sauce.

Housewifery

If you wish only a few drops of lemon juice do not cut the lemon in two and expose both halves to the air. Instead pierce the lemon skin with a fork and squeeze out the required juice.

Household Hint

If you want to make your painted furniture look like maple, this is the way to do it, according to one ingenious housewife: First, apply a coat of yellowish buff, and then when this is hard and dry, rub over it a good deal of hard walnut stain. Let this dry and then rub down well with fine steel wool. The wool removes some of the stain and blends the rest with the ground coat. Keep on rubbing until you get the exact effect you want.

Chicken and hardboiled eggs creamed together and served in a noodle ring make a nice dish for buffet suppers, says Anne Shirley, young moving picture player. You can, if you prefer, use tuna fish instead of chicken.

Conservation Winners

Understanding and appreciation of Conservation which the posters demonstrated.

The contest closed on Friday evening and the entries were presented in a form such that the judges did not know until after their decision had been reached, whose poster was being considered.

The judges included Percy McNe, representing the lumber industries; Mrs. Wilder Immel, representing the P. T. A.; Mrs. A. J. Blair, for the Shakespeare Club; Otto Schmitt, for the Lions, and Mrs. George R. Burris, for the Soroptomists Club.

Ward and Tatum of fond memory on last year's Cougar nine.

"We've got a big turnout and a number of the boys who played last year are back in the harness again," Brown said. "Generally, it doesn't look so bad in the field, and I hope we find out that we've got some hitters. That's what we need."

Bill Schroth, who did some pitching last year, is the mainstay of the hurling staff this year, with plenty of aspirants for regular berths, among them Barrett and Rossi.

Behind the plate, Boggs, who did relief duty last year, is in the field with Art Davey and Way trying out.

The infield has Jim Schroth at first, Del Carlo at short and Beach at third, all hold-overs, with Lyle Smith and Ed Smith (who played with Jackson last year) and Edelman scrapping for openings.

In the outer garden are Barrett, Rossi, Killian and Gibbs, among others.

warnings posted along the Atlantic coast from New York to Cape Hatteras, off the coast of North Carolina.

The storm belt, the weather bureau said, would extend from western Pennsylvania to the coast and northeastward into New England states.

Clear skies and rising temperatures followed the storm in most midwestern states, which had experienced "quickie" floods and sleet-disrupted transportation and communication during the week-end.

Originating in a Texas "Panhandle" dust storm early Saturday, the disturbance moved northeastward across Oklahoma, Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Michigan.

Hutchinson Yields Five Runs In 3 Frames

LAKELAND, Fla., (UP)—Freddie Hutchinson, highest priced rookie of the 1939 baseball season, made his first appearance as a Detroit Tiger pitcher yesterday, and, despite a defeat, Manager Del Baker said he was pleased with the youngster's work.

Hutchinson pitched the last three innings of an intra-club game, and was charged with his side's 9-6 defeat. He was reached for five runs, six hits, including two triples and a homer.

Sports Parade

By HENRY McLEMORE

LOS ANGELES, (UP) — California became a perpetual giant merry-go-round. The horses run here all the time.

Out of the 365 days which I have been led to believe go to make up a year, 265 of them are racing days in California. When it isn't Santa Anita it's Inglewood. When it isn't Inglewood it's Del Mar. When it isn't Del Mar it's Bay Meadows. When it isn't Bay Meadows it's Tanforan. And when the horses are not running at any one of these five big tracks, they are racing at some one of the 25 agricultural fairs throughout the state, where racing seems a good deal more important than agriculture.

Here in Los Angeles, home of Santa Anita and Inglewood, two of the biggest racing plants in the United States, there is an ever-growing feeling that unless there is a drastic change in the situation racing will cease in this state within five years. People who are against legalized racing and people who are for it are beginning to agree that unless the tracks voluntarily cut the number of racing days they will be closed altogether.

In the short space of one year Hollywood Park at Inglewood apparently has seen the handwriting on the wall.

All over the state merchants and bankers are rising up against the tidal wave of betting. Last year $66,000,000 or thereabouts was bet through the windows at race tracks alone. No one knows how much passed through the illegal bookies' hands. The state has done its best to limit race gambling to those who actually go to the track, but no law enforcement body has ever been able to stamp out the fly-by-night bookies who clip the little man who hasn't the time or the money to go to the track.

Of course, the entire $66,000,000 bet last year, for instance, wasn't taken away from the people who bet it. But 14 per cent of it was, which went to the state and the tracks, and 14 per cent of $66,000,000 is a whacking lot of ready cash by my figures. It would pay the bills owed to many a butcher, baker and candlestick maker.

The horse race gambling fever is easier to catch in California than a common cold. With tracks all over the state, and one right across the border in Mexico to take care of the Sunday trade, about the only people who aren't exposed to the joys and sorrows of gambling on the ponies are the residents of those year-round resorts, Alcatraz, Folsom and San Quentin.

I would say that the future of California racing depends on the tracks themselves. If they don't see the daylight they are likely to get it knocked right out of them.

In the meantime, wire me if you hear anything good in the first at Santa Anita tomorrow.

Father, 2 Boys Die In Home Fire At Colusa

COLUSA (UP) — Roy Crabtree, 31-year-old WPA worker and two small sons were dead, and Mrs. Reitha Crabtree, an expectant mother, was in grave condition today suffering severe burns and shock after fire razed their small home while they were sleeping.

The father died after he attempted unsuccessfully to reach the two boys, Leroy, 6, and Joe Don, 3 who were asleep on a davenport in the living room.

Oakland "Lovers Lane" Slayer Found Sane

OAKLAND (UP)—Rodney Greig, 21 year old knife slayer of pretty Leona Vlught, beauty college instructor, was found sane today by Superior Judge Edward J. Tyrrell, making Greig liable for the death penalty or possible life imprisonment. Greig stabbed Miss Vlught to death while they were sitting in his automobile on a "lover's lane" in the Oakland foothills.

BEAR HOOPSTERS REST AWAITING TITLE SERIES

BERKELEY, (UP)—Winners of the southern division of the Pacific Coast Conference, the University of California basketball team "took it easy" today on orders of their coach, Nibs Price.

Price ordered his squad to rest for a few days after their victory Saturday over the University of Southern California by a 42-36 score in a one game title playoff.

The squad goes north this week to meet Oregon, winner of the northern division, in a playoff series at Eugene, Oregon, for the coast championship.

NOTABLE STAGE SUCCESS EQUALLY OUTSTANDING ON EMPIRE SCREEN

Frank Capra and Robert Riskin delivered their most thoroughly entertaining screen comedy, "You Can't Take It With You," to the Empire Theatre yesterday. The picture will be shown tonight and Tuesday. Difficult as the feat seems to be, these unerring collaborators have exceeded even their former film masterpieces — "It Happened One Night," "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town," "Lost Horizon" and others. It is easily the greatest picture in the career of Hollywood's top director-writer team.

"You Can't Take It With You" is a picturization of the Pulitzer prize-winning stage play by George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart. The stage play's delightful drolleries and farcical fun have been retained to a large degree while a generous measure of comedy-drama and a few dashes of sentiment have been added to give verisimilitude to the motivation. The result is a superbly ingratiating picture, interwoven with romance and genuine emotion.

An all-star cast, in the purest sense of the phrase, turns in a gallery of impeccable performances. Jean Arthur, Lionel Barrymore, Jas. Stewart, Edward Arnold, Mischa Auer and Spring Byington are especially worthy of mention. Equally sharing top honors, however, are Ann Miller, Donald Meek, Dub Taylor, Halliwell Hobbes, H. B. Warner, Mary Forbes and Samuel S. Hines.

The story concerns itself with the astonishing happenings in the household of Grandpa Vanderhof, who one morning, thirty years before, went up in the office elevator, came down and never went back. Lionel Barrymore plays Grandpa with a simple artistry that is sheer genius.
